Series Overview

with Teaching Suggestions

Select Readings, Second Edition is a reading course for students of English. In Select Readings, Second Edition, high-interest, authentic reading passages serve as springboards for reading skills development, vocabulary building, and thought-provoking discussions and writing.

The readings represent a wide range of genres, including newspaper and magazine articles, personal essays, textbook chapters, book excerpts, and online discussions, chosen and approved by experienced teachers.

General Approach to Reading Instruction

The following principles have guided the development of Select Readings, Second Edition:

- Exposing students to a variety of text types and genres helps them develop more effective reading skills. Students learn to handle the richness and depth of writing styles they will encounter as they read more widely in English.
- Readers become engaged with a selection when they are asked to respond personally to its theme. While comprehension questions help students see if they have understood the information in a reading, discussion questions ask students to consider the issues raised by the passage.
- Readers sharpen their reading, vocabulary-building, and language skills when skills work is tied directly to the content and language of each reading passage. This book introduces students to reading skills such as previewing and scanning and vocabulary-building strategies such as learning word forms and understanding prefixes. Each skill was chosen in consultation with teachers to ensure that the most applicable and appropriate skills were selected for students at the Elementary level.
- Good readers make good writers. Reading helps students develop writing skills, while writing experience helps students become better readers.
- Background knowledge plays an important role in reading comprehension. An important goal of Select Readings, Second Edition is to illustrate how thinking in advance about the topic of a reading prepares readers to better comprehend and interact with a text.

Chapter Overview

Each chapter in Select Readings, Second Edition Elementary includes the sections described below.

1. Opening Page

The purpose of this page is to draw readers into the theme and content of the chapter with relevant artwork and a compelling quotation.

www.irLanguage.com

Teaching Suggestions:

- Ask students to describe what they see in the photo or artwork on the page and guess what the chapter is about. Have them read the quotation, restate it in their own words, and then say if they agree with it. Finally, ask what connection there might be between the image and the quotation.
- Call students' attention to the Chapter Focus box. Give them a chance to think about the content and skills they are about to study and to set their own learning goals for the chapter.

2. Before You Read

The first activity in each Before You Read section introduces important vocabulary from the reading passage. Where appropriate, visuals are used to illustrate key terms while accompanying questions get students to use the new terms. The second activity in each Before You Read section provides students with a specific task for previewing the reading passage. This activity also gives students the opportunity to practice an important reading skill, such as predicting or scanning. Additional information about each reading skill is provided in the Reading Skills Guide on pages 92–102.

Teaching Suggestions:

- Have students describe what they see in the photos. Students can work in pairs or groups to answer the questions and then report their answers to the class.
- Have students work in pairs to do the previewing activity. They can then share answers before they read the article.
- If students have questions about a particular reading skill, take some time to go over the information in the Reading Skills Guide.

3. Reading Passage

In general, the readings become increasingly long and/or more complex as the chapters progress. To help students successfully tackle each passage, we have provided the following support tools:

Vocabulary glosses. Challenging words and expressions are glossed throughout the readings. In some cases, we have glossed chunks of words instead of individual vocabulary items. This approach helps students develop a better sense of how important context is to understanding the meaning of new words.

Culture and Language Notes. On pages 85–91, students will find explanations for cultural references and language usage that appear in blue type in the readings. Notes are provided on a wide range of topics from scientific information, to geographical references, to famous people.

Maps. Each location featured in a reading passage is clearly marked on one of the maps found on pages 103–107.

Numbered lines. For easy reference, every fifth line of each reading passage is numbered.

Recorded reading passages. Listening to someone reading a text aloud helps language learners see how words are grouped in meaningful chunks, thus aiding comprehension.

Teaching Suggestions:

- Encourage students to read actively. Circling words, writing questions in the margins, and taking notes are three ways in which students can make reading a more active and meaningful experience.
- Play the recorded version of the reading passage and ask students to listen to how the reader groups words together. As they listen to the recording, students can lightly underline or circle the groups of words.

4. Understanding the Text

Following each reading, there are five to six activities that give students the chance to a) explore the reading passage in more detail as they take notes, b) interact with the text several times, c) check their understanding of the text, d) discuss the issues raised in the reading, e) use key terms in a new context, and f) learn useful vocabulary skills.

Teaching Suggestions:

- Have students refer back to the reading as they take notes in the chart. Encourage them to then use their notes to retell important information from the reading. Together students can make a master chart of notes on the board and discuss any differences in their notes.
- For the Comprehension activity, encourage students to show where in the reading passage they found the information to support their answer. Doing this gives students the opportunity to discuss the text in greater detail and to clarify any comprehension issues.
- Have students work in pairs or small groups to do the What do you think? activity. Pairs or groups can then share answers with the rest of the class.

5. Discussion and Writing

At the end of each chapter, students have an opportunity to talk and write about a variety of issues. The activities in this section provide students with a chance to broaden their views on the topic of the reading and to address more global issues and concerns. The final activity in this section is a Web Search that gives students a simple task to accomplish online.

Teaching Suggestions:

- When time permits, let students discuss a question a second time with a different partner or group. This allows them to apply what they learned in their first discussion of the question.
- Assign the Web Search activity for homework. Remind students that they don't need to understand every word in the material they read online in order to complete the task. www.irLanguage.com

6. Words to Remember

Each chapter ends with a list of Words to Remember. A majority of these words are Oxford 2000 keywords, and many are also highlighted on the Academic Word List. This section provides an efficient means for students to keep track of important new vocabulary by chapter. In addition, the new *Mini-Dictionary on pages 108–114 features carefully crafted definitions of each Word to Remember from the new Oxford Basic American Dictionary for learners of English, giving students an alphabetical reference of the words and their definitions all in one place.

Reading Skills Guide

The Reading Skills Guide on pages 92–102 serves as an additional reference tool for Elementary students. While tasks in the chapters guide students in applying important reading skills such as previewing and taking notes, the Reading Skills Guide provides a resource for students who are ready to explore the reading skills in greater depth. The Reading Skills Guide gives useful information about the purpose of each reading skill and illustrates how to apply each skill to a text. Additional practice activities follow these explanations.

Teaching Suggestions:

- Elicit what students already know about the reading skill and then encourage students to guess how using this skill might help them become better readers.
- After students do an activity, ask them to reflect on how using the skill affected the way they read.

Testing Program CD-ROM with Student Book Answer Key

Students today are facing increased pressure to excel at standardized testing in order to gain entrance to universities and secure competitive jobs. Select Readings, Second Edition offers an exciting new Testing Program CD-ROM, including tests modelled after the IELTS™, TOEFL®, and TOEIC® standardized tests, as well as general achievement and chapter tests. The reading tests included on the new Testing Program CD-ROM with Student Book Answer Key were written and approved by testing experts. All chapter tests feature new and different reading passages to test the skills learned in that chapter.

Oxford iTools CD-ROM: Digital Classroom Resources

Oxford iTools are digital resources to meet your teaching and learning needs. Specifically designed for use on interactive whiteboards, iTools can also be used with data projectors, PCs, or laptops. Select Readings, Second Edition iTools features each Student Book onscreen with embedded audio and answer keys. In addition, iTools includes a bonus audio recording for most chapters.

Class Audio CDs

Select Readings, Second Edition offers Class Audio CDs featuring carefully recorded audio of all main reading passages in each level of the series. Giving students the opportunity to listen to a fluent English speaker as they follow along in the text significantly aids comprehension and supports listening and speaking skill development. Each Class Audio CD features a variety of accents.

Audio Download Center

The screenshot shows the 'Audio Download Center' page for 'Select Readings, Second Edition'. The page header includes 'OXFORD UNIVERSITY PRESS' and 'Select Readings SECOND EDITION'. Below the header, it says 'Students > Select Readings: Second Edition'. The main heading is 'AUDIO DOWNLOAD CENTER' with the sub-heading 'Teacher-approved readings for today's students'. A text box explains: 'The Select Readings Audio Download Center allows you to access and download audio files for each main reading passage in the Student Book.' Below this, there are four book covers representing different levels: Elementary, Pre-Intermediate, Intermediate, and Upper-Intermediate. A 'Choose your level >' link is positioned to the left of the book covers. At the bottom, there is a copyright notice: '© Content and graphics copyright Oxford University Press. Questions

1. Which of the sports above do you play? Which do you like to watch?
2. Cricket is very popular in India. Many people there play or watch this sport. Is cricket popular in your country?
3. Every sport has rules. For example, a football player can't touch the ball with his or her hands. Do you know the rules of tennis? What is one rule in your favorite sport?
4. Most football games last for about 90 minutes. Do you know how long a basketball game usually lasts? Can a tennis game last longer than three hours?
5. Football and field hockey are similar in some ways. For example, both sports use a ball, and both are outdoor sports. Think of two other sports. How are they similar?

The Most Popular Sports in the World

1 What are the five most popular sports in the world? Some of the answers may surprise you!

1. Football (“soccer” in the U.S.) is the world’s most popular sport. Today, about 3.5 billion¹ people watch or play football. Football is popular in Europe, Asia, South America, Africa, North America...almost everywhere!

Fun fact: In a professional football game, players run about five miles (eight km).

2. The world’s number two sport is cricket. Cricket is originally² from the UK, but today it is also popular in Australia, New Zealand, some African countries, and some Caribbean countries. In India and Pakistan, cricket is more popular than football. About three billion people around the world watch or play cricket each year.

10 Fun fact: Four hundred million people—40 percent of India’s population—watch important cricket games on TV.

3. Field hockey is number three. Approximately two billion people play or watch field hockey, mostly in Asia, Europe, Australia, and Africa. In the United States, field hockey is mainly for high school girls.

20 Fun fact: Field hockey is a very old sport. In Egypt, 4,000-year-old drawings show people playing field hockey. Of course, the rules of the game are different today.

4. Next is tennis. Today there are roughly one billion players and spectators³ of tennis around the world. Tennis is originally from France, but today it is very popular in the United States, Asia, Australia, and Europe.

Fun fact: The longest tennis game lasted eleven hours and five minutes!

5. Table tennis (ping-pong) is popular around the world, with about 900 million players and spectators. Today, table tennis is especially popular in China, Korea, and Singapore.

30 Fun fact: In table tennis, the ball can go more than 100 mph (160 km/h).

There are many popular sports around the world, but these are the top five. What is similar about all of these sports? They’re fun, they’re fast, and they use a ball. Is that why the expression “have a ball” means “have a lot of fun?” Maybe!

Football and field hockey are different in some ways and (7)_____ in other ways. One important difference is that football is a popular spectator sport, but field hockey isn't. That is probably why there are few (8)_____ field hockey players. Many of the (9)_____ for football and field hockey are also very different. For example, field hockey players can't touch the ball with their feet, but football players can. In both sports, however, the players need to be good runners. After all, the sizes of a football field and a hockey field are (10)_____ the same.

E. Understanding Synonyms. For each boldfaced word below, find a synonym in the reading on page 3. Then use the synonym to complete the sentence. (More than one answer may be possible.)

Synonyms are words that are similar in meaning. For example, the words approximately, roughly, and about have similar meanings. Writers often use a synonym because they don't want to use the same word again and again.

1. There are approximately two billion field hockey players and spectators and _____ one billion tennis players.
2. A tennis game usually goes on for about three hours, but sometimes a game _____ for much longer than that.
3. In the United States, field hockey is mostly for girls, but wrestling is _____ for boys.
4. The top five sports around the world are alike in many ways and have _____ qualities.

Dream Homes

1 People have very different ideas for their dream home—their perfect house or apartment. Some people dream of a simple house in a special place. Others want a large house with every convenience.¹ Is your dream home similar to any of the dream
 5 homes below?

Mukesh Ambani, a businessman in India, is the owner of the most expensive house in the world. Ambani's dream house is 27 stories high, so it has room for everything his family needs and wants. Mr. Ambani owns a lot of cars, so the first six floors of 10 his house are just for cars. Another floor of the house has a movie theater with seats for 50 people. Two floors of the house are for a health center with a gym and a swimming pool. Another floor is for guests² of the Ambani family. The four floors at the top of the building are just for the Ambani family. From there, they 15 have a view of the Arabian Sea.

Henry David Thoreau, an American writer, lived from 1817 to 1862. At the age of 28, he built his perfect house. It was a very small house—just 10 feet by 15 feet (3 m by 4.5 m). Inside there were just three chairs, a bed, a table, and a small desk.
 20 The location of his house was very important to Thoreau. He built his house in the woods close to a beautiful lake.

Dikembe Mutombo, a professional basketball player, built a very different type of dream home. Mutombo grew up in the Democratic Republic of the Congo, but he moved to the United 25 States to study. He wanted to be a doctor, but instead he became a famous basketball player. Mutombo's dream home is in the Congo, and it has beds for 150 people. It also has an emergency room,³ many exam rooms, and some beautiful gardens. Mutombo didn't build his dream home for himself. Instead, he 30 built it for the people in his native country. Mutombo's dream home is a hospital.

Kiss, Bow, or Shake Hands?

1 People greet each other in many different ways. We asked four people to describe the ways they greet people in their country. Here's what they wrote:

I greet people differently depending on the situation. In formal situations, I usually shake hands. And when I meet someone for the first time, I almost always shake hands. It's important to shake hands firmly. When I greet casual friends, I just say, "Hi!" For close friends, I usually give them a hug. It's a little different for men though. Where I live, it's not very common for male friends to hug each other. They do other things like the "fist bump." That's when two people touch fists.

10 —Sandra (U.S.)

In formal situations or when I meet someone for the first time, I shake hands. It's important to shake hands firmly and look the other person in the eye when you greet them. I always hug my friends. Hugging is perfectly acceptable. It's OK for men to hug other men, for men to hug women, and for women to hug other women.

15 —Kamal (Turkey)

In a formal situation or when I meet someone for the first time, I always shake hands. When I greet a male friend, I give him a hug and a pat on the back. When I greet a close female friend, I give her a small hug and a kiss on the cheek. My female friends greet each other in this way too.

20 —Octavio (Venezuela) www.irLanguage.com

When I meet a friend, I greet them with a wai—I put my hands together in front of my chest and bow slightly—and say, "Sawadee," which means "Hello." In formal situations, some people still use this traditional Thai greeting, but these days more and more businesspeople shake hands. Times are changing.

A City Without Oil

1 The United Arab Emirates (UAE) is a country with a lot of oil. Oil brings the country billions of dollars each year. So why is the UAE building a city that uses very little or no oil? The answer is simple: oil will not last 5 forever. But there is another resource people can use instead of oil—the sun.

In fact, engineers are now building a new city that uses mostly solar¹ energy for its power. The city is called Masdar, and it is about 20 miles (32 km) from 10 Abu Dhabi, one of the largest cities in the UAE. If it is a success, Masdar will be the first city in the world that uses little or no oil.

Masdar is a small city—only 2.3 square miles (6 sq. km). In the future, it will hold 50,000 people, 15 more than 1,000 companies, and a university. Its streets are very narrow. The houses are close to each other. The shade² from the houses helps keep the streets cool.

There are no cars on the streets of Masdar. Because the city is so small, people can walk to most places.
20 If they get tired, they can use the PRT: Personal Rapid Transit. These small, solar-powered cars move underground, like a subway. The cars have no drivers. People just tell the car where they want to go, and it takes them there.

25 Masdar will reuse as many resources as possible. It will reuse about 80 percent of its water and change most of its waste³ into more energy. People in Masdar are even using building materials that they can reuse in the future.

30 Can this city really be successful? No one knows. But if it is, there could be other low-energy cities around the world in the future.

2. Would you like to live in Masdar? Why or why not?
3. Do you think Masdar will be a success? Why or why not?
4. Is it important to reuse natural resources? Why or why not?

D. Vocabulary. Choose the correct word to complete each sentence.

cool narrow shade successful tired waste

1. Trees, umbrellas, and tall buildings all help to provide _____ from the sun.
2. Running for an hour makes me feel _____.
3. It's hot here during the day, but after the sun goes down, it feels _____.
4. In a big city, the streets are often very wide, but in a small town, the streets are usually _____.
5. You can put old papers and other _____ in that box.
6. You can't be _____ at everything you do.

E. Understanding Prefixes. Complete each conversation using a synonym for the boldfaced verb.

In English, we can sometimes add a prefix, or small word part, to a word to change its meaning. For example, we can add the prefix re- to the verb use. Reuse means use again.

1. A: I didn't get your e-mail. Can you send it again?
B: I already resent it.
2. A: Do you want me to write this letter again?
B: Sure. How long do you think it will take to _____ it?
3. A: Do you want to play the video again?
B: No, I _____ it twice already.
4. A: Did the fire completely destroy the school?
B: Yes, but they are going to build it again in the same place.
A: How long will it take to _____ it?
B: No one knows for sure.
5. A: My shirt is still dirty. Can you wash it again?
B: OK, I will _____ it tomorrow.

Discussion & Writing

You Can't Please Everyone

1 Stories about Nasreddin, a teacher and philosopher from the 1200s, are popular in many countries. These stories make us laugh and also teach us a lesson about people.

One day, Nasreddin wanted to take his young son into town.
5 "You can ride the donkey," he told his son, "and I'll walk next to you." So Nasreddin's son got on the donkey, and they started down the road into town.

A little while later, Nasreddin and his son came across¹ some people on the road. The people looked at the boy on the donkey with disapproval.² One person said, "Look at that healthy young boy! Can you believe today's young people? They have no respect³ for their parents. That boy rides on the donkey, and his poor father has to walk."

When the boy heard this, he was very unhappy. He asked
15 his father to ride the donkey instead of him. So Nasreddin got on the donkey, and the boy walked next to him. Soon they met another group of people on the road. One person said, "Well, look at that! That poor boy has to walk while his father rides the donkey."

20 After the people walked away, Nasreddin told his son to get on the donkey with him. "No one can criticize⁴ us now," he said. But soon they met two old men on the road. The men looked at Nasreddin and his son with disapproval. "That poor donkey looks very tired," one of the men said.

25 Nasreddin stopped the donkey and got off. Then he said to his son, "The best thing is for both of us to walk. Then no one can criticize us." So Nasreddin and his son walked down the road, and the donkey walked behind them. Soon they met some more people on the road. One person said, "Just look at those fools.⁵
30 Both of them are walking in this hot weather, and no one is riding the donkey. How stupid they are!"

Nasreddin looked at his son and said, "You can't please everyone."

Understanding the Text

A. Understanding the Order of Events. Number the events in the story from first (1) to last (8).

- ___ A man says Nasreddin's donkey looks very tired.
- ___ Nasreddin and his son are walking down the road, and the donkey is walking behind them.
- ___ One person criticizes Nasreddin's son because he is riding the donkey.
- 1 Nasreddin's son is riding the donkey, and his father is walking next to him.
- ___ One person says Nasreddin and his son are stupid because they aren't riding the donkey.
- ___ Both Nasreddin and his son get on the donkey.
- ___ Nasreddin is riding the donkey, and his son is walking next to him.
- ___ Some people criticize Nasreddin because he is riding the donkey and his son is walking.

B. Comprehension. What does each pronoun refer to? Look back at the story and then fill in the circle of the correct answer.

1. In line 5, he refers to ___.

- (A) Nasreddin (B) the son (C) the donkey

2. In line 11, they refers to ___.

- (A) the people on the road (B) today's young people (C) parents

3. In line 31, they refers to ___.

- (A) Nasreddin and his son (B) the people on the road (C) Nasreddin and the donkey

C.  What do you think? Work with your classmates to answer the questions below.

1. Do you think this story is interesting? Why or why not?
2. Nasreddin says that you can't please everyone. Do you agree? Why or why not?
3. Did you criticize anyone last week? What did you say?
4. What is an example of good or helpful criticism? What is an example of bad or unhelpful criticism?

D. Learning Word Forms. Choose the correct word in parentheses to complete each sentence.

Noun	Verb
belief	believe
disapproval	disapprove
criticism	criticize

1. How do you feel when someone _____ you? (criticism / criticizes)
2. How do people show _____? (disapproval / disapprove)
3. Long ago people _____ the earth was flat. Today this _____ seems very strange to us. (belief / believed)

E. Using a Dictionary. Choose the correct dictionary definition for the boldfaced word in each sentence. Write the number of the definition on the line.

so /soʊ/ conjunction 1 because of this or that: The store is closed, so I can't buy any bread. 2 (also so that) in order that: Speak louder so that everyone can hear you. from the Oxford Basic American Dictionary for learners of English

1. ____ So, what did you think of the story?
2. ____ Some people criticized Nasreddin's son, so he got off the donkey.
3. ____ Nasreddin went to town so he could buy some food.
4. ____ A little while later, Nasreddin met some people on the road.
5. ____ At the beginning of the story, Nasreddin's son rode the donkey while his father walked next to him.

F. Understanding Indefinite Pronouns. Complete each sentence with everyone, someone, or no one.

The words everyone, someone, and no one are indefinite pronouns. We use these pronouns when we don't want to name a specific person.

everyone = every person someone = a person no one = no person

1. In the story, Nasreddin tries to please _____.
2. _____ in the story says that Nasreddin and his son are fools.
3. _____ in the story says anything nice about Nasreddin and his son.

Discussion & Writing

1. Who did you try to please last week? Complete the chart with information. Then tell a partner.

Who did you try to please?	What did you do to please this person?
Example: my mother	I helped her at home.

2. What are some important lessons that parents try to teach their children? Work with a partner to add more ideas to the list below.

Lessons parents try to teach their children:

- You should respect older people.

- _____
- _____

Across the Desert

1 The Sahara Desert is the largest desert in the world. It stretches across Africa from Senegal to Egypt. The Sahara Desert is an unfriendly environment. During the day it's very hot, and at night it's sometimes very 5 cold. It is also difficult to find water in the Sahara.

In 2006, Kevin Lin, Ray Zahab, and Charlie Engle decided to do something very difficult. They made the decision to run across the Sahara Desert—
4,300 miles (6,920 km). It seemed impossible to do,
10 but they wanted to try. The three men liked to test themselves, and this would be a very big test.

On the morning of November 2, Kevin, Ray, and Charlie started their trip across the Sahara. Every morning they began running at 5:00. At 11 a.m. they 15 stopped and rested until 5 p.m. Then they ran again until 9:30 in the evening. Each day they ran about 40 miles (64 km). Every day it was the same thing. They got up and ran. They listened to music on their iPods, and they ran and ran.

20 Kevin, Ray, and Charlie needed to eat a lot of food during their trip. Most people need about 2,000 calories of food each day. Kevin, Ray, and Charlie needed between 6,000 and 9,000 calories every day. That's a lot of food! They also needed to 25 drink a lot of water.

The three men had some problems on their trip, and many times they wanted to quit¹ and go home. It was often very hot (140°F/60°C) during the day, and the heat made them sick. Their legs and feet hurt. Sometimes it was very windy, and they couldn't see. One time they got lost. But they 30 didn't quit. After 111 days, Kevin, Ray, and Charlie successfully finished their trip across the Sahara Desert. They hugged each other and put their hands in the water of the Red Sea. Then they ran to a hotel to take a long shower.

Questions	My Answers	Answers from the Reading
1. Bicycles are popular in Denmark. Why is that?	Maybe bicycles are popular because cars are expensive.
2. What can the government of Denmark do to get even more people to ride bicycles?

Denmark Loves Bicycles

1 Denmark is one of the most bicycle-friendly countries in the world. Roughly 40 percent of the people in its capital, Copenhagen, commute to school or work by bicycle.

Why are bikes so popular in Denmark? First of all, the government is worried about pollution. Cars pollute the air, and the number of cars is growing. Denmark has a very high tax¹ on cars because the government wants more people to ride bikes instead.

Another reason for the popularity of bicycles is that Denmark is a very flat country. The highest place in the country is only 557 feet (170 m), so it is a very easy place to ride a bike. In Copenhagen, there are also special lanes² just for cyclists.³ Cars must stop when a bike is crossing the road. Some places have special traffic lights to tell drivers that bikes are going to cross the road.

About 20 percent of people in nearby towns commute to Copenhagen on their bikes. But Denmark wants to double⁴ this number. The government is planning to build bicycle “superhighways.” These roads will only be for cyclists. Cyclists will have special places on these highways to stop and rest or put air in their tires.

Denmark is also making traffic lights friendlier for cyclists. Most people ride their bikes at about 8 mph (20 km/h). On the bicycle superhighways, people going this speed will only see green traffic lights. They won’t have to stop for a red light.

With these bicycle superhighways, Copenhagen may become the most bicycle-friendly city in the world. Many other cities, such as New York, London, and Guangzhou, China, are thinking about copying its plans. In fact, there is a new word for making a city more bicycle-friendly: “Copenhagenization.”

A Passion¹ for Cooking

- 1 Many people are afraid to cook Chinese food. They think it is difficult to prepare Chinese dishes. Ching-He Huang, a young chef,² business owner, and TV star, is changing their ideas. She teaches people quick and easy ways to prepare Chinese food.
- 5 Thanks to Ching-He, many people around the world now love to cook Chinese food!

Ching-He was born in Taiwan in 1978. She first learned about traditional Chinese cooking from her grandparents. They shopped for fresh ingredients every day, and they always ate freshly-cooked meals.

When Ching-He was eleven years old, she and her family moved to London. Because her mother often traveled for work, Ching-He cooked meals for her family. Her mother taught her a little bit about Chinese cooking. Soon, Ching-He started to create her own recipes. She especially loved to make rice dishes and noodle soups.

Ching-He studied economics in college, but her big passion was cooking. After she graduated,³ she started a food and drink company. She sold healthy Chinese foods and drinks to stores. In 2005, Ching-He had her first TV cooking program. The next year, she wrote her first cookbook. In 2008, she starred in another TV series,⁴ Chinese Food Made Easy. For this TV show, she traveled around the UK and taught people to make simple, delicious Chinese food. She also wrote another cookbook to go with the TV show. Over three million people watched the TV series.

25 Today, Ching-He is famous in the UK. Her TV shows are also popular in several other countries. What is Ching-He's secret to success? She creates recipes that combine traditional and modern flavors.⁵ She makes Chinese cooking fast and easy. And because she has a friendly personality, she is fun to watch on TV.

30 Ching-He is a very busy woman, but she still finds time to relax. What does Ching-He Huang do in her free time? She cooks, of course!

1 This was a great year for traveling. I took trips to France, Australia, and Turkey. I spent almost a month in each country. Besides¹ the cost of transportation, I only spent $600 total for all three trips. How? Well, I didn't stay

5 in any hotels, and I didn't eat in expensive restaurants. It's easy when you know the secrets to cheap travel.

For my first trip, I went on a working holiday in France. Every year, farmers in France hire² travelers to come and work on their farms. I slept at a farm for free,³

10 and every weekend I traveled around the country. During the week, however, I picked fruit for eight hours a day, five days a week. Picking fruit isn't easy, and sometimes it didn't feel like I was on vacation! But I met a lot of great people, and I ate a lot of delicious food at the farm.

15 For my next trip, I went backpacking in Australia. During the day I went hiking, and each night I slept in my tent. Carrying a backpack and tent all day can be tiring. However, the mountains and beaches were so beautiful that I didn't think about my heavy backpack.

Finally, in Turkey, I tried couchsurfing. To couchsurf, you join a special online

20 network.⁴ This network connects travelers with hosts in different countries. Hosts invite travelers to sleep in their home instead of spending money on a hotel. You sleep in a bed, or even on a couch. That's why people call it couchsurfing. Couchsurfing is a great way to meet people when you travel. All my hosts were really nice, but one guy had two big dogs, and they were noisy. It was hard to sleep there!

25 I have to go for now. Two couchsurfers from Canada are coming in an hour, and I need to clean my house! Happy travels!

A. Complete the diagram below with information from the reading on page 57.

B. Comprehension. Fill in the circle of the correct answer.

- In the first paragraph, the word cheap means _____.
 - A healthy
 - B easy
 - C not expensive
- On his vacation in France, Daniel _____.
 - A stayed in an apartment
 - B ate good food
 - C went hiking
- Daniel liked Australia because _____.
 - A it was beautiful
 - B he made a lot of friends
 - C the food was delicious
- In paragraph 4, hosts are people who _____.
 - A travel a lot
 - B don't spend money
 - C invite other people to their home
- Daniel likes couchsurfing because _____.
 - A you make new friends
 - B you sleep in a hotel
 - C the food is very good

C.  What do you think? Work with your classmates to answer the questions below.

- Do you think Daniel enjoyed his working holiday in France? What lines in the text help you to know?
- Do you think Daniel spent much money in Australia? What lines in the text help you to know?
- Would you prefer to go on a working holiday, go backpacking, or couchsurf? Why?

D. Using go + -ing Form of a Verb. Complete the chart below with words from the box. Then add your own ideas.

In English, we often use go + the -ing form of a verb.

go hiking	go swimming	go skiing
go camping	go backpacking	go running
go walking	go shopping	go surfing

Things You Can Only Do Outdoors	Things You Can Only Do Indoors	Things You Can Do Indoors or Outdoors go hiking

E. Understanding Signal Words. Complete the sentences with your own ideas.

Writers use signal words to help their readers follow their ideas. Notice how the word however signals that the next sentence contrasts with an idea that came before.

Examples

- On the weekend, I always did something fun. However, during the week, I worked very hard.
- Carrying a backpack can be tiring. However, I didn't even think about my backpack.

1. Yesterday I felt tired all day. However, _____

2. It's important to eat breakfast every morning. However, _____

3. All of my classmates had fun on their vacations. However, _____

4. Backpacking is a great way to travel. However, _____

Discussion & Writing

1. Describe a trip you took. Answer the questions in the chart. Then tell a partner about your trip.

1. Where did you go on your trip?
2. How did you get there?
3. What did you do on your trip?
4. What did you like best about your trip?

2. Choose one of the ways to travel on page 56. Make a chart with the advantages (+) and disadvantages (-) of this way to travel. Then share your chart with your classmates.

Example: Going on a Cruise

Advantages	Disadvantages
It's comfortable. It's easy to meet new people.	It's expensive. The rooms on the ship are small.

3. Choose a place you would like to visit. Look on the Internet for more information about this place. Tell your classmates three interesting things you learned.

Step 3: What do you want to learn about Hirotada Ototake—the man in the pictures? Add three more questions to the list below. Then read the article and look for answers to your questions.

Questions	Answers from the Reading
1. How is Mr. Ototake a successful man?	1.
2.	2.
3.	3.
4.	4.

A Very Able Man

1 Hirotada Ototake is a happy, successful man. He graduated from Waseda University, one of Japan's top universities. While he was a student there, he played a lot of sports. After graduating, he worked as a sports journalist.¹ Then, in 1998, he wrote a book
5 about his life. This book became a bestseller² in Japan.

Mr. Ototake, or "Oto," as his friends call him, has a disability.³ He was born with a condition⁴ called tetra-amelia. It is a rare condition, and children with tetra-amelia are born without arms or legs.

10 As a young boy, Oto's parents sent him to a regular school. They didn't want him to go to a special school for children with disabilities. Oto says that it is sometimes hard for people to feel comfortable around someone with disabilities. By going to a regular school, Oto helped his classmates learn about people with 15 disabilities. He showed them that people with disabilities were just like them. Oto talks about this in his book, No One's Perfect.

Oto believes that if you want something, you have to work hard for it. He worked very hard at school to get into Waseda University. He also worked hard at sports such as baseball, 20 basketball, and swimming, and he worked hard to get a good job.

Oto got married in 2001, and he now has two young sons. In 2007, he also decided to change his job. Now he works as an elementary school teacher in Tokyo. He teaches science and social studies. As a teacher, Oto believes that his students will 25 learn that people are the same with or without disabilities.

Did Oto's disability make him different? Actually, yes, it did. It taught him to be strong and to work hard, and that made him able to do many things. Oto shows us that anything is possible if you work hard enough.

Protecting¹ Cultural Traditions

1 UNESCO—the United Nations Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Organization—wants to protect cultural traditions around the world. These traditions include types of dance, music, festivals, cooking, and more. Every year, UNESCO adds more traditions to the list. UNESCO
5 calls these traditions “intangible² cultural heritage.” Big Ben is a tangible example of British heritage—you can see it and touch it. But what are some examples of intangible heritage? Here are three of our readers’ favorite intangible traditions.

In Korea, we have a beautiful tradition called ganggangsullae, or the 10 Korean round dance. This tradition is 5,000 years old. Under a full moon, women dance in a circle, sing, and play games all night. The songs and dances are easy to learn, so everyone can join in. Many years ago, people celebrated³ the harvest⁴ with the round dance. Today, this tradition brings friends together, and it is an important part of Korean culture.

15 —Sang-mi, Korea

Every June, there is an oil wrestling festival in Edirne, Turkey. The first Turkish oil wrestling festival was almost 650 years ago. It is the oldest wrestling competition in the world. Men wear leather pants and put oil all over their bodies. Then they wrestle. The winner gets a golden belt 20 and a lot of money. At the festival, there is also food, music, and dancing. Every year, thousands of people of different ages, cultures, and regions come together for this exciting event.

—Adem, Turkey

Croatia has a gingerbread tradition. In the 1500s, people in Croatia
25 started making gingerbread (a sweet bread), and it is still very popular today. Making gingerbread is not easy, so gingerbread makers need to be very skillful. They make gingerbread in many shapes; hearts are the most popular. Then they decorate the gingerbread with pictures and words. People often give gingerbread on holidays and for special events such 30 as weddings. Today, gingerbread is an important part of local festivals and other special events. Gingerbread is beautiful and delicious, and it connects Croatian people to their past.

Emergency in the Air

- 1 On April 28, 1988 at 1:25 p.m., Flight 243 left Hilo, Hawaii. It was a 40-minute flight to Honolulu, and the weather was good. The 89 passengers were in their seats with their seat belts on.
- 5 At 1:40 the plane reached 24,000 feet, and the three flight attendants started serving drinks. Suddenly, at 1:45 there was a loud noise. Mr. Dennin, a businessman, was in a window seat in the back of the airplane. He looked at the front of the airplane and saw a big hole. “A third of the roof was gone,” Mr. Dennin said, “I saw blue sky.”

David Kupihea was in a seat in the front of the airplane. His suitcase was under the seat in front of him. Suddenly, the suitcase flew out of the airplane. Then a piece of metal hit his arm and cut it. The passenger next to him had a large cut on his head. “Everything was flying around—books, paper, money,” said passenger Stanford Samson.

When the pilot heard the noise, he looked back. The cockpit door wasn't there, and he saw blue sky above the passengers. The first 18 feet (5.5 m) of the airplane behind the cockpit were completely open. Only the floor and the passengers' seats were still there.

The pilot decided to put the airplane into a fast descent.¹ They were close to the airport on the island of Maui, and maybe he could land² the airplane there.

At 1:58 p.m. the pilot made an emergency landing at Kahului Airport in Maui. The passengers couldn't believe it. They were safe on the ground.

What caused the emergency? It was an old plane. It made many short flights during its life. It took off and landed many times, and this weakened the plane.

University Admissions¹ Around the World

1 What do you need to do to get into a university? Actually, it depends on where you live. Let's look at university admissions in four countries: Austria, Turkey, the United Kingdom, and the United States.

In Austria

5 In Austria, getting into a university is very simple. Getting into a university in Austria depends completely on a student's score on a national achievement exam.² Subjects on this exam include German, mathematics, and a foreign language. Students who pass this exam can go to a university in Austria.

10 In Turkey

In Turkey, high school students take a national achievement exam in March. If they pass that exam, they take another exam in June. Getting into a Turkish university depends mostly on these exam scores, but universities also consider high school grades. In Turkey, students usually 15 study very hard for the national exam. If they don't pass the exam, they can't go to university.

In the United Kingdom

Students in the United Kingdom take achievement exams when they are 16, 17, and 18 years old. Universities consider a student's scores
20 on all of these exams. Students also provide³ a very short personal statement, a reference letter from one teacher, and information about their extracurricular activities.⁴

In the United States

The university admissions system in the United States is quite 25 different from those in Austria, Turkey, and the UK. Most universities in the United States consider a student's score on a special aptitude test called the SAT. Unlike an achievement exam, an aptitude test measures a student's ability to learn. It does not measure a student's knowledge of school subjects. Most universities also look at a student's high school
30 grades, an admissions essay, and several reference letters. Extracurricular activities, such as sports, clubs, and volunteer work, are also very important. Students often do many activities in high school so they can get into a good university.

F. Understanding Signal Words. Complete the sentences below with your own ideas. (More than one answer is possible.)

Writers use signal words to help readers follow their ideas. Notice how the words like and unlike signal a comparison or contrast is coming next.

- Like students in Austria, students in Turkey take an achievement exam.
- Unlike an achievement exam, an aptitude test measures a student's ability to learn.

1. Like football, cricket _____.
2. Unlike backpacking, staying in a hotel _____.
3. Unlike the Sahara Desert, the environment where I live _____.

Discussion & Writing

1. Compare university admissions in your country and another country. Make a diagram like the one below.

Example

2. Write three sentences with information from your chart in Activity 1.

Example

1. In both the U.S. and the UK, universities look at a student's extracurricular activities.
2. In the U.S., universities look at several reference letters, but in the UK, they only look at one reference letter.
3. Unlike students in the UK, students in the U.S. take an aptitude exam.

3. Choose one of these universities and look on the Internet for information. Where is this university? How many students does it have? Tell your classmates three more interesting things you learned.

Reading Skill: Scanning

What is scanning?

Scanning means looking quickly over a text to find specific information, such as a name, date, or fact.

Why should you scan a text?

Scanning a text saves time. You can quickly find a specific fact by scanning a text.

How do you scan a text?

Think about the information you need. Then move your eyes quickly over the text looking for important words or numbers.

Try It!

- A. Scan this flight information to answer the questions below. Remember to look only for the answer to each question. Try not to read every word.

Flight	From	Arrival Time	Flight	From	Arrival Time
JP 143	Vienna	10:45	LH 493	Vancouver	11:20
SK 1637	Copenhagen	11:00	LH 421	Boston	11:30
BA 906	London	11:10	LH 1029	Paris	12:05

1. When does flight SK 1637 arrive? _____
 2. Which flight arrives at 11:20? _____
 3. Where is flight BA 906 arriving from? _____
- B. Scan these dictionary definitions to find the answers to the questions below. Remember: don't read the definitions. Instead move your eyes quickly over the definitions to find the answers to the questions.

foot-ball  /'fʊtbɔːl/ noun

1 a game that is played by two teams of eleven players who throw, carry, or kick the ball to the end of the field. The players wear special clothing to protect their heads and bodies: He played football in high school and college. 2 a ball for playing this game from the Oxford Basic American Dictionary for learners of English

foot-step /'fʊtstɛp/ noun

the sound of a person walking: I heard footsteps, and then a knock on the door.

1. How many definitions does the dictionary give for the word football?

2. Is the word footstep a noun or a verb? _____

Reading Skill: Taking Notes

Why should you take notes?

Taking notes as you read helps you organize and remember important ideas and information.

How do you take notes?

When you take notes, you write only the most important words and ideas. It's not necessary to write complete sentences.

- Sometimes you want to take notes on the main topics and details in a text.

Example

Topic	Details
football	has about 3.5 billion players or spectators is popular around the world people in the U.S. call it soccer

Example

Ambani's Dream Home	Thoreau's Dream Home	Mutombo's Dream Home
1. very tall—27 stories	1. close to a lake	1.
2.	2.	2.
3.	3.	3.

- Sometimes you want to take notes on the order of events in a text.

Example

Try It!

A. Read the paragraph below and take notes in this chart.

Topic	Details

Volleyball is a very popular sport. In fact, it is the sixth most popular sport in the world. More than 900 million people play or watch this sport. Volleyball is originally from the United States, but today it is also popular in Brazil, Russia, China, Japan, and many European countries.

B. Read the paragraph below and take notes on this timeline.

Dikembe Mutombo, the famous basketball player, is originally from the Democratic Republic of the Congo. In 1987, he came to the United States to study. At Georgetown University, Mutombo was both a good student and a good basketball player, and in 1991, he became a professional basketball player. In 1997, Mutombo started the Dikembe Mutombo Foundation. The first job of the foundation was to build a hospital in the Democratic Republic of the Congo. This hospital opened in 2007.

Reading Skill: Previewing

What is previewing?

The word preview means to look before. When you preview a reading, you look it over before you start to read.

Why should you preview a reading?

Previewing prepares you to read a text. When you are prepared, a text is easier to understand. Previewing allows you to:

- set a purpose for reading
- think about what you already know about the topic
- decide how you want to read the text

How do you preview a reading?

You can preview a reading in different ways. Here are some things you can do:

- Read the title of the article. Ask yourself questions about the title and guess the answers.

Example

Title of the Reading: The Most Popular Sports in the World
Sample Q & A:	What are the most popular sports in the world?	I think football, basketball, and baseball are the most popular sports in the world.

- Look at the pictures. Guess what the reading is about.
- Read the first sentence in each paragraph. What do you think you will learn in each paragraph?
- Set a purpose for reading. Think about what you want to learn from the reading. Write your ideas as questions.

Try It!

- A. Read the title of the article on page 97. What questions does the title raise for you? Write two questions in the chart below. Then guess the answers to your questions.

What questions does the title raise for you?	What are some possible answers to your questions?
1.	1.
2.	2.

B. Look at the picture with the article below and complete this sentence.

I think this reading is about _____.

C. Read the introduction and the first sentence in each paragraph below.

What do you expect to learn from the reading? Check (✓) your answers.

- what to do at a meal in a foreign country
- what sports are popular in three countries
- how people greet each other in three countries
- how to drive in foreign countries
- how friends greet each other

Kiss, Bow, or Shake Hands?

People greet each other in many different ways. We asked three people to describe the ways they greet people in their country. Here's what they wrote:

I greet people differently depending on the situation. _____

—Sandra (U.S.)

In formal situations or when I meet someone for the first time, I shake hands. _____

—Kamal (Turkey)

When I meet a friend, I greet them with a wai—I put my hands together in front of my chest and bow slightly—and say, “Sawadee,” which means “Hello.” _____

—Noi (Thailand)

D. Set a purpose for reading. Think about what you want to learn from the text and write two more questions. Then compare ideas with your classmates.

- How do friends greet each other in Turkey _____?
- _____?
- _____?

Reading Skill: Using Context Clues

What are context clues?

Sometimes you can guess the meaning of an unfamiliar word by looking at the context—the other words in the sentence or nearby sentences. The context gives you clues, or helpful information about the meaning of the unfamiliar word.

How do you use context clues?

Below are three types of context clues. Notice how the underlined context clues help you guess the meaning of the boldfaced words.

- An example:
I greet people differently depending on the situation. In a formal situation, such as a job interview, I usually shake hands.
- A description:
Denmark is a very flat country. The highest place is only 557 feet.
- A cause and effect relationship:
The streets in Masdar are very narrow, and the houses are very close to each other. The shade from the houses helps keep the streets cool.

Using context clues for definitions

Many words in English have more than one meaning. When you look up a word in a dictionary, remember to use context clues to choose the correct definition.

1. You read: It's not a good idea to skip meals.
2. You look up the word skip in your dictionary.

/skɪp/ verb

1 to move along quickly with little jumps from one foot to the other: The children were skipping along the road.

2 to not do or have something that you should do or have: I skipped my class today and went swimming.

from the Oxford Basic American Dictionary for learners of English

3. You choose definition 2 for the meaning of skip in this context.

Try It!

A. Use the underlined context clues to guess the meaning of each boldfaced word. Fill in the circle of the correct answer.

1. From the top of the building you can see the Arabian Sea. It's a great view.

A view is _____.

- Ⓐ what you can see from a place
- Ⓑ what you can do in the water
- Ⓒ what you hear outdoors

2. The bread comes in many different shapes; hearts are the most popular.

Shapes are _____.

- Ⓐ the way things taste
- Ⓑ the outer form
- Ⓒ ways to cook food

3. The location of Thoreau's dream house was very important to him.

He wanted to build his house in the woods near a beautiful lake.

Location is _____.

- Ⓐ the way something looks
- Ⓑ where something is
- Ⓒ how much something costs

B. Use context clues to choose the correct dictionary definition for the boldfaced word in each sentence. Write the number of the definition.

hard	spend	roughly	story
1 a lot 2 strongly	1 pay money 2 pass time	1 about; not exactly 2 not gently	1 words that tell you about people and things that are not real 2 words that tell you about things that really happened 3 one level in a building

1. ___ My brother works hard. He almost never takes a vacation.
2. ___ When I fell, I hit the ground hard and broke my arm.
3. ___ We spent three weeks in Turkey.
4. ___ I spent five dollars for a cup of coffee!
5. ___ If you play football roughly, you might get hurt.
6. ___ There are roughly 200 field hockey players at my school.
7. ___ We live in a one story house.
8. ___ I just heard an interesting story about my grandmother's life.

Reading Skill: Identifying Main Ideas and Details

What are main ideas and details?

Main ideas are the most important ideas in a piece of writing. The details support and make clear the main ideas.

One sentence in a paragraph usually states the main idea. The other sentences give details or supporting ideas. In the example below, the first sentence states the main idea. The other sentences support and explain the main idea.

Example

Football is the world's most popular sport. Today, about 3.5 billion people watch or play football. Football is popular in Europe, Asia, South America, Africa, North America...almost everywhere!

Why should you identify main ideas and details?

Identifying the main ideas and details helps you understand the writer's meaning. What is the writer trying to say?

Try It!

- A. One sentence in each group below states a main idea. Label it MI for main idea. The other sentences in each group give details. Label these sentences D for details.
1. ___ The size of a football field and a hockey field are about the same.
 ___ Both field hockey and football players need to be good runners.
 ___ Football and field hockey are similar in some ways.
 ___ You can't play field hockey or football without a ball.
 2. ___ In formal situations, I usually shake hands with people.
 ___ I say, "Hi," to my friends when I see them.
 ___ I always greet my grandparents with a big hug.
 ___ I greet people differently depending on the situation.
 3. ___ It's very hot during the day in the Sahara Desert.
 ___ The Sahara Desert is an unfriendly environment.
 ___ There isn't much water there.
 ___ At night it sometimes gets very cold.

Reading Skill: Making Inferences

What is an inference?

An inference is an educated guess. When you make an inference, you look at the evidence and draw a conclusion.

Evidence

Your friend is crying.

Inference

She is unhappy.

Why should you make inferences as you read?

Writers don't always state an opinion or an important idea directly. Instead, readers must infer, or guess, the writer's idea from the details.

Example

Details

It's difficult to find water in the Sahara Desert.

Inferences

There probably aren't a lot of trees in the desert.

It's difficult to live in the desert.

You need to take water with you when you travel in the desert.

Try It!

A. What can you infer from the statements below? (More than one idea is possible.)

1. Four hundred million people—40 percent of India's population—watch important cricket games on TV.

What can you infer about cricket in India?

2. The longest tennis game lasted eleven hours and five minutes.

What can you infer about the two tennis players in the longest tennis game?

3. There are no cars in the city of Masdar.

What can you infer about a city without cars?

4. Roughly 40 percent of the people in Copenhagen, Denmark travel to school or work by bicycle.

What can you infer about life in Copenhagen?

Reading Skill: Predicting

What is predicting?

Predicting means saying what you think will happen.

Examples

I think it's going to rain this afternoon.

I think I'm going to be late to school today.

I think this article is about five sports.

Why should you make predictions as you read?

Making predictions helps you read actively. You make a prediction, and then you read to check your prediction.

Try It!

A. Read the titles of three articles below. What do you expect to learn about in each article? Write your ideas as questions. Then predict answers to your questions.

1. Title: Great Places to Live

Questions	My Predictions
Where are some great places to live?
Why are they great?

2. Title: The World's Healthiest Diet

Questions	My Predictions

3. Title: Scott's Working Holiday in France
